WELCOME TO STAVANGER!

Stavanger is located on the southwestern coast of Norway, in the Norwegian fjord region, offering some of the most majestic and spectacular scenery in the world. Surrounded by mountains, beaches and the sea, the city is truly a unique destination. Stavanger's intimate and mostly pedestrian city centre, with its old town and medieval harbour makes for an intimate and charming atmosphere.

A dynamic university, a university hospital, and various international research centres make the Stavanger region a competent host destination.
